Daniel & Susan (Dusenbery) Bohl

Daniel and Susan are 1992 graduates of OSSM. Daniel received his Bachelor of Science Degree from MIT in 1996 in Chemical Engineering. He received his M.D. from Washington University in St. Louis in 2000 and is now a Nephrology Attending at Barnes Jewish Hospital in St. Louis where he does research on polyomaviruses and their effect on renal transplant patients. Daniel has been an author on multiple articles and abstracts and has been awarded two grants to support his research. Daniel married fellow OSSM alum Susan Marie Dusenbery in 2000.

Susan received her Bachelor of Science and Master of Science Degrees from MIT in 1996 and 1997 in Chemical Engineering. She was awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship toward graduate studies. As part of her master's degree she participated in engineering projects at Dow Chemical in Michigan and Mitsubishi Chemical in Japan. After completing her Master's degree, she was hired by Merck & Co. where she worked on a team to design purification schemes for several types of HIV research vaccines. She received her M.D. degree from Washington University in St. Louis in 2004. Susan will be a 3rd year Pediatrics resident on July 1 at St. Louis Children's Hospital.

Susan and Daniel have a 2-year-old daughter, Abigail.
