Brenton Asher Phillips, M.S.

Brenton graduated from OSSM in 1994. He attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and graduated with a B.S. in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science and a Masters degree from MIT's Artificial Intelligence Laboratory. After graduation, Brenton went to work for Oracle at their software development center in Nashua, New Hampshire. Three years later, despite his love of the majesty of the White Mountains, he realized he missed the raw excitement of an Oklahoma thunderstorm. He moved back to Oklahoma and has worked for Oracle as an engineer from his home for the last four years. While in Oklahoma, Brenton volunteered his services to teach computer science at OSSM for two years.

Brenton and his wife Kathy are currently delighting in their first-born son, Preston, and they are preparing for a move to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where Brenton will begin a Ph.D. program in computer science at Carnegie Mellon University.
